

RafflesHospital

Raffles Hospital is a private tertiary hospital in Singapore, with multi-disciplinary specialist medical centres. The Hospital, which operates as the largest specialist group practice in Singapore, is seeking to further expand its services to meet the needs of its patients.

Pharmacist

You will be responsible for supervising and delivering pharmaceutical services to patients and our healthcare professionals.

You will assist in planning and co-ordinating the daily operations of dispensing medications to achieve a prompt, safe and effective pharmacy service. You will supervise and control such operations in accordance with protocols and legal requirements.

In addition, you will need to ensure availability of drug supplies, and provide accurate drug information and education to patients and healthcare professionals on matters pertaining to safe and effective medication use. You will also supervise Pharmacy Technicians under your care.

You should have a recognised degree in Pharmacy and be registered with the Singapore Pharmacy Council. You should have relevant experience, preferably in the healthcare environment.

Interested candidates, please write in/e-mail/fax with a full CV and expected salary to:

Human Resource Department

Raffles Hospital
585 North Bridge Road | #12-00 | Singapore 188770
Fax: 6311 2394
Email: raffleshospital@rafflesmedical.com
Website: www.raffleshospital.com

(Only shortlisted candidates will be notified)

RafflesHospital

Raffles Hospital is a private tertiary hospital in Singapore, with multi-disciplinary specialist medical centres. The Hospital, which operates as the largest specialist group practice in Singapore, is seeking to further expand its services to meet the needs of its patients.

Pharmacist

You will be responsible for supervising and delivering pharmaceutical services to patients and our healthcare professionals.

You will assist in planning and co-ordinating the daily operations of dispensing medications to achieve a prompt, safe and effective pharmacy service. You will supervise and control such operations in accordance with protocols and legal requirements.

In addition, you will need to ensure availability of drug supplies, and provide accurate drug information and education to patients and healthcare professionals on matters pertaining to safe and effective medication use. You will also supervise Pharmacy Technicians under your care.

You should have a recognised degree in Pharmacy and be registered with the Singapore Pharmacy Council. You should have relevant experience, preferably in the healthcare environment.

Interested candidates, please write in/e-mail/fax with a full CV and expected salary to:

Human Resource Department

Raffles Hospital

585 North Bridge Road | #12-00 | Singapore 188770

Fax: 6311 2394

Email: raffleshospital@rafflesmedical.com

Website: www.raffleshospital.com

(Only shortlisted candidates will be notified)