

What is this medicine for?

Bupropion is an antidepressant used to treat symptoms of low mood such as sad feelings, feelings of hopelessness or worthlessness, feeling bad about yourself, suicidal thoughts, poor sleep, energy or appetite.

Bupropion is also used as an aid in quitting smoking.

The medicine may also be used for other conditions, check with your doctor.

Before using this medicine:

Tell your doctor if you have any drug allergies or have ever had heart, liver, or kidney disease; seizures (fits); eating disorders; diabetes; urinary problems; high cholesterol; low blood pressure; phenylketonuria; bipolar disorder; schizophrenia.

FOR WOMEN: Tell your doctor if you are pregnant, plan to become pregnant, or are breast-feeding.

How to use this medicine?

Follow the directions on your medicine label and take the medicine exactly as directed. Do not take more or less of it or take it more often than prescribed by your doctor. Bupropion can be taken with or without food.

Do NOT break, split or crush tablets. Swallow whole.

This medicine must be taken regularly for a few weeks before its full effect is felt. Continue to take this medicine regularly as prescribed even if you feel well. Do not stop taking it without talking to your doctor.

Once these symptoms are under control, you should continue taking this medication regularly to prevent the return of your depressive or anxiety symptoms. Do check with your doctor on the appropriate length of treatment you need.

Stopping this medication suddenly after taking for a long time may lead to mild discontinuation symptoms such as nausea, anxiety, insomnia, headache and dizziness.

Precautions while taking this medicine:

- Bupropion may make you drowsy or less alert. Do not drive or operate machinery if affected.
- Avoid drinking alcohol while taking this medicine. Drinking alcohol can worsen symptoms of depression and side effect of drowsiness.
- When you take this medicine with some other medicines, it may affect how they work. Be sure that you tell all doctors, pharmacists, dentists and other health care providers who treat you about all medicines and natural remedies you are taking.
- Your mental condition may change in unexpected ways especially at the beginning (first few weeks) of treatment and during dose changes. Contact your doctor immediately if you or your child (the patient) experience new or worsening thoughts of harming yourself, increase in symptoms such as anxiety, restlessness, violent behaviour, or other changes in mood and behaviour. Be sure that your family or caregiver knows which symptoms may be serious so they can call the doctor if you are unable to seek treatment on your own.

What should I do if I forget a dose?

Take the missed dose as soon as you remember it. However, if it is more than half way between the doses, skip the missed dose and take your medicine at the usual time.

Do not take two or more doses at the same time to make up for a missed one.
